

Putting Comfort Within Reach

Smart flexible financing

More comfort options than ever are now within reach.

With financing options through Service Finance Company, you now have more purchasing power than ever before. Take advantage of your options and get the innovation, efficiency and all-encompassing comfort of Lennox on flexible, friendly terms.

Why finance your comfort?

When you think about it, your home heating and cooling system affects how you feel every moment you're at home. So every dollar you spend increasing your comfort level is a dollar you'll appreciate for years to come.

Your home heating and cooling system also accounts for around half of the energy your home uses every month. So moving up to a higher-efficiency system will produce energy savings you'll appreciate as well. In other words, spending a little more now will help you save energy every month.

Financing is the simpler, smarter way.

To make it as easy as possible to fill your home with perfectly comfortable air, Lennox has simplified the application process. Your local Lennox Dealer can help you apply in one of several ways:

- » Over the phone
- » Through the financing application website
- » Via the safe, secure mobile app on your dealer's smartphone or tablet
